STUDENTS

Midterm exam schedules are posted around the building.

Any student entering an exam site is expected to turn in their electronic device to their proctor. This is in accordance with state exam regulations and students who do not wish to do this are instructed to leave their cell phone or smart watch at home.

All students entering the building should go directly to the cafeteria prior to being released to their testing location. Students should only be in the building if they are scheduled to take an exam on a given day.

Students who need to take the bus home at the end of their morning exam will be boarding their activity bus color that they would typically take home.
